We dedicate this volume of THE LEGEND to Mrs. Loraine White for her unselfish dedication to the personal and educational development of Weequahic students.

The 1977 Legend continues in its tradition of representing and reflecting the past year's events. The Legend continues to recognize the achievements and excellence of graduating seniors, spotlighting, too, those who - having no particular talents - go unnoticed in the shuffle of senior life styles.

We have tried to capture what is new and vital in the curriculum, highlighting those programs designed especially for seniors. A touch of emphasis has been placed upon future aspirations - our goals, careers, and post high school plans. Our senior section is full of candids of seniors doing, producing, creating, managing, excelling. Add to this a reflective and new "Student Life Section" and you have the prime example of a representative yearbook. Approximately 4,320 man-hours went into the production of this volume of The Legend.

The Principal Speaks on future goals and career planning

The Holy Bible is full of words of wisdom. One message of wisdom that appears in the Holy Bible is that relating to "The Wise Man and the Fool." The message goes as follows: The fool built his house upon the sand and the rains came down and the tides came up and the house fell down; The wise man built his house upon the rocks and the rains came down and the tides came up and the house stood fast.

Completing high school is like building your house. It is the path toward preparing yourself for years to come. High school, however, is only a beginning. You must continue now the building of your house upon the rocks. by preparing yourself for a life career. By now you should have decided what it is that you expect out of life's career ladder, be it an auto mechanic, electrician, nurse, teacher, or doctor. It is not enough to say you want to be any of these professionals. Rather, you should be building toward your career, now. Completion of high school is, in short, merely a start and not an end to your ultimate career goal. It is important that you understand that, generally speaking, the more you put into preparing yourself for a future the more likely you are to have a successful rewarding life. it is faulty logic to think that these life rewards are going to present themselves to you if you do not make the effort to adequately prepare yourself. Finally, one gets out of life what he puts into it. I, therefore, urge you to aim your sights high and take with you the attitude that you can be whatever it is you want to be, Not only should you believe that you can be anything you want, but in addition, you should strive to be the best of whatever that is. Best of luck to all the graduates of the class of 1977.

To the Mainstream

This year a federal grant allotted Weequahic $8,650 to acquire new machines for the Business Department. Among the purchases were IBM electric and selectric typewriters which afford students the opportunity to work with the best typewriters in the world; and eight modern transcription machines for the students of stenography. Weequahic is the only school in the system with this type of equipment. Add to this an all-electric typing program and you have the height of modernization and progressive education in business.

For the student who wants to master typing for his own individual usage the Business Department offers a new program called "Personal Typing". This program allows the student to type at his own speed rather than at set times and speeds.

Innovative in the department this year is the Business Communication's course. A first in the city of Newark, this program is a cooperative effort on behalf of the English and Business Departments. Mrs. Susan Fusco (English) and Mrs. Pat Nelson (Business) teach listening, speaking, spelling, and writing skills.

Great Ideas In Literature

The dull days of English I, II, III, IV are gone. Students at Weequahic now enjoy such courses as Shakespeare, Black Literature, Library Research and Study Skills, British Literature, World Literature, Classical Literature, The Novel, The Short Story, Film Seminar, and American Studies. The English Department has purchased a video tape cassette recorder to supplement the evergrowing textbook collection and to enhance the classroom instruction. There is a strong emphasis on improvement of composition skills, and freshmen who read below eighth grade level have an additional class to aid them in improving their reading skills. English teachers and Guidance counselors cooperate in an annual career-week program in which counselors visit senior-junior classes to discuss career choices.

A Bi- lingual World

Seniors are often surpised to learn that knowledge of a foreign language is a definite plus in obtaining specialized jobs and in pursuing certain careers. In an effort to bring this valuable insight to students, some of the department's teachers guest lectured in English classes during career week about the often obscure benefits gained from speaking a second language. Careers in government, teaching, medicine, overseas assignments, sales, law, technology, et. al., call for at least a reading proficiency in a foreign language. Relating the language to the students so that they can relate it to new experiences is the new ideology of the foreign language department.

Math For Consumers

LEONARD GROSS

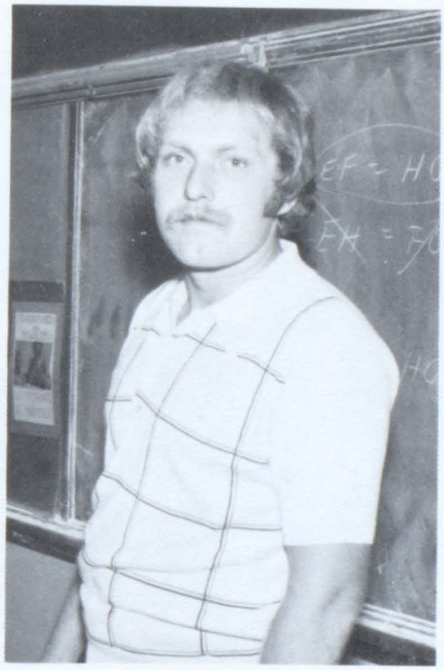

JOSEPHINE HERR

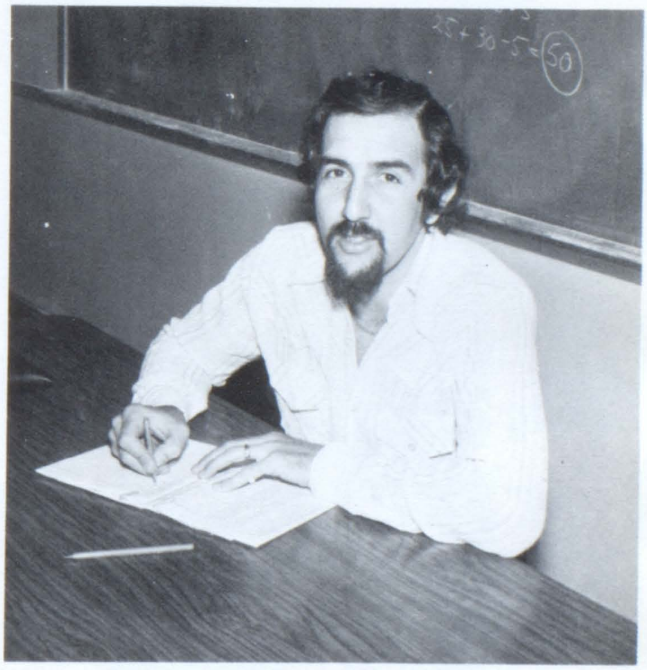

The Mathematics department changes little from year to year. The curriculum basically stays the same. The Math for Advanced Placement (MAP) Program is one of the oldest programs in Weequahic High. It has been at Weequahic since 1957 and each year awards pins to students of outstanding ability. Math seems to occupy a more important place in many students' minds today. Students are beginning to realize the practical side of mathematics. As a result, the use of figures and numbers in the everyday dealings of the consumer — budgeting, shopping, percentages, pricing — is becoming more and more respected by the high school senior who soon takes his place in the working world. Rather than try to introduce new courses, Math teachers stress improvement in the basic skills that will serve the student in the real world.

Music has been said to soothe the savage beast, calm the raging spirit, evoke muses, charm snakes, and ignite romance. Whether music deserves all this credit is really the decision of the listener. The Weequahic Chorus, however, proved that music certainly puts one in a festive, holiday mood. For the first time at WHS, the chorus — Directed by Mr. Ransom — went caroling throughout the building enthralling students and staff alike during the Christmas season.

Music is a part of the teenage culture in America. Music, moreover, is for everyone — a universal language. It is an extension of oneself. Even the shyest person can be drawn out to the beat of "Disco Duck."

A music career is one in which your hobby becomes your work. Many a student from Weequahic has put his talents to work in a viable, successful career in music. Students have only to look to DON KIRSCHNER'S ROCK CONCERT for inspiration.

The High Road Is The Low Road

Feel the need for excitement? an escape? to unwind or to get high? That first step could lead to a blind alley. Falling asleep in class, absenteeism and cutting, lack of interest in school work, and falling grades can be the road signs of drug abuse.

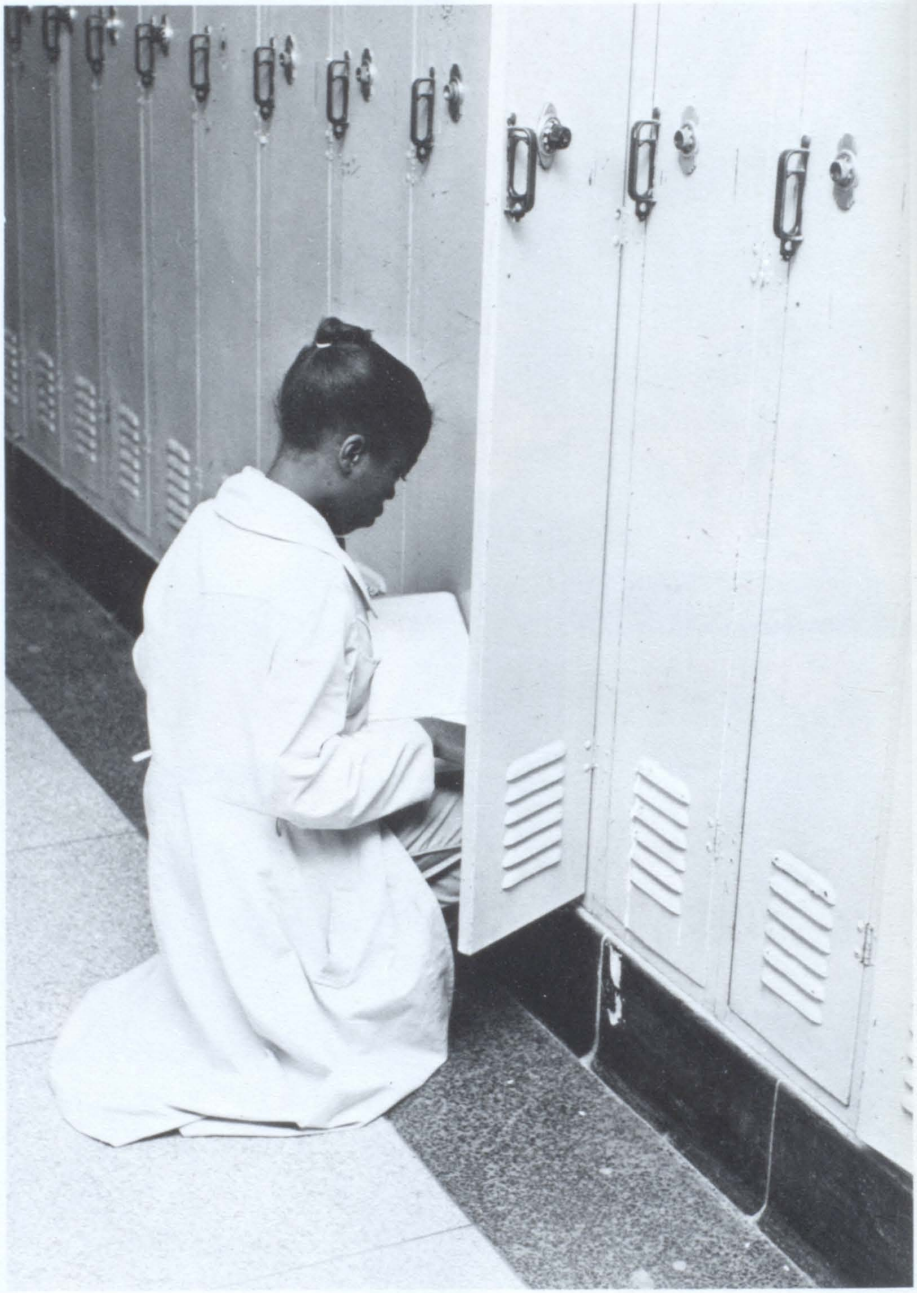

There is a detour you can take. It is called The Drug Abuse Prevention and Education Program and is coordinated by Ms. Loraine White. With the assistance of the other educators in the Health and Physical Education Department, the program attempts to educate students about drugs and to prevent drug abuse. Parents are encouraged to participate in a workshop conducted by the Parents Advisory Council on Drug Abuse.

Students who appear to be experimenting with drugs are referred to Ms. White by their friends, teachers, and parents. Some feel the increasing pressure to use drugs so intense that they seek counseling themselves. All cases are kept confidential and the students know they can always trust Ms. White.

Have You Ever Felt Alone In A Crowd?

JACQUELINE MIRKIN — Social Worker

The teenage years are not always the best. For some these years are filled with academic, social, and emotional upheaval. The pain of our first love, the burden of financial problems, family troubles, illness, or that immortal search for "Who Am I?" can turn us inside out and our grades upside down.

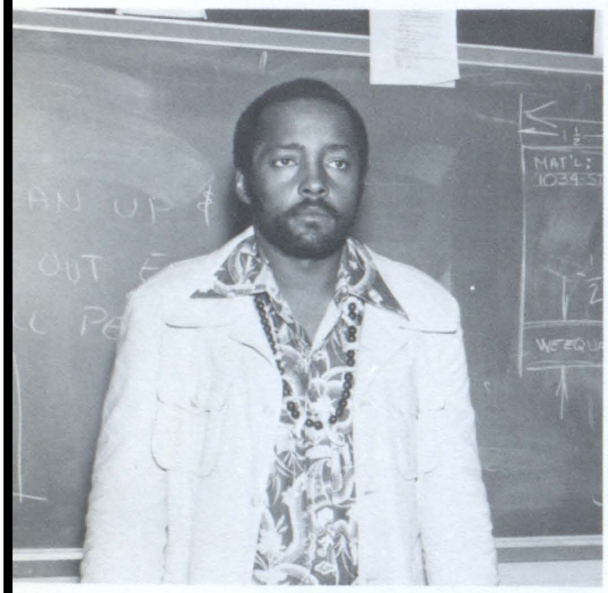

Sometimes all our friends and family just cannot help us deal with our feelings. They are too close to us, or too busy, or too burdened by their own problems. When you need someone to listen when no one else will, or an objective opinion, or helpful information, our social worker is there, ready, willing, and capable of helping us.

There are some problems you can't discuss with just anybody.

Practical Learning

Within the Practical Arts Department several new areas have been developed. An Early Childhood course was designed to increase understanding of young children, with emphasis on growth patterns, guiding and caring for young children, and knowledge of what to expect from them as little people. Handcrafts is a new course giving students an opportunity to work independently in any numer of handcraft media, macrame and stitchery, for example. Occupational Home Economics combines the regular academic day with a work experience after school. Audio-Visual Communications deals with various "hands on" learning activities using video-tape recorders and the new dark room to develop black and white film. Students at WHS receive great satisfaction from projects that utilize their individual creativity.

Preparing For 2001

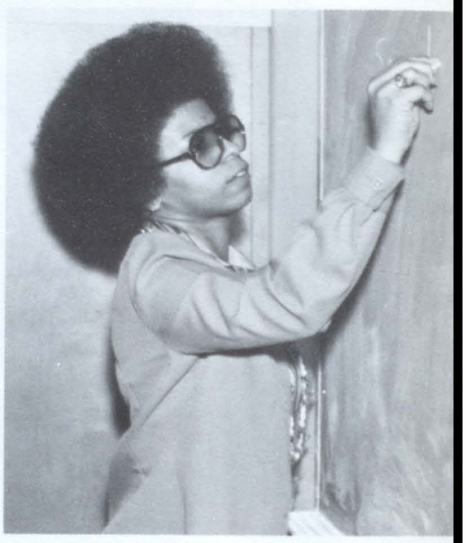

Is it going to rain? Snow? Storm? Sleet? Is a hurricane coming our way? A tornado? Don't call the weather man. Call the Science Department. They have their own weather station which dependably measures wind velocity, wind direction, and barometric pressure. It can also tell outside maximum and minimum temperature recorded. Perhaps it is just a sophisticated thermometer, but Mr. Bennett, the department chairperson, is quite proud of this new addition. The Science department's goals include an individualized self-paced program, more guest speakers such as those who have visited from New Jersey College of Medicine, Dentistry, and New Jersey Institute of Technology, and the Essex County Environment Center. There is a new project underway in the department set up by the Exxon Research Corporation where students are enrolled in developing research projects in the field of conservation and environmental studies. The project's purpose is to further interest students in the field of engineering. Advanced courses offered in the Science department are Honors Biology, Honors Physics, and Advanced Placement Chemistry. Each of these courses carries with it extensive laboratory work.

Blacks Elect Carter

Innovative and entertaining teaching methods with the addition of two new courses achieve the optimum in social studies education. One such course is "Current Events" taught by Mr. Tyler. Students are informed as to what is happening in the world today. The course uses newspapers, magazines, and television as its media. Mr. Sanford Williams' Afro-American History course experienced new and profound avenues to studying black history through the thought provoking book and televised rendition of ROOTS. As a follow-up to this literary-TV phenomenon, Mr. Williams exposed students to guest speakers, telephone interviews with Hurricane Carter, Congressman Peter Rodino, et al., and readings — all designed to make the black student more conscious of the devastating meaning of his heritage — his roots.

A New Link In The Chain

HAROLD FRIEDMAN

Sometimes new students have problems adjusting academically, socially, or have family problems that interfere with their success in high school. In the past, students have sought out the advice or listening ear of their teachers, their counselors, their administrators, or the school's social worker. Add to this helpful chain a new link: The Peer Counseling Program. The peer counselors are chosen through an extensive evaluation process. They must be well-adjusted themselves, have a B average, and an understanding manner. An interview is held with Mr. Harold Friedman before selections are made.

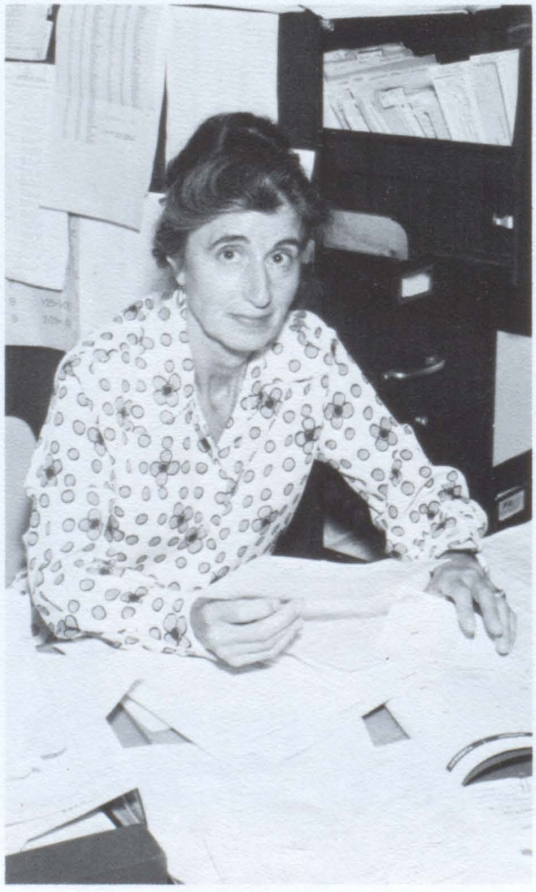

Once in the program the peer counselors are trained in methods to help the counselee cope with his problems. These methods include techniques in listening, observation, initiation, and problem solving.

Seniors find the Media Center an indispensible aid in preparing not only for class work but for future careers as well. The Media Center houses a "library" of career source material, including college catalogs and how-to-succeed-in-college handbooks. Workshops in handling job interviews and seminars sponsoring the return of former Weequahic students who give first-hand accounts of college life are regular fare for the Media Center. The OBA has conducted a career program in the Media Center entitled "Guess Who's Becoming a ?"

In addition, the Media Center extends itself to every facet of education. In an attempt to maintain a close relationship with each department, the Media Center opens its doors once a month to a guest presentation, debate, or panel discussion sponsored by the individual disciplines.

This year, the English department in conjunction with the Media Center developed a Library Research and Study Skills course. The course uses the center as a lab, making use of all materials and equipment available.

Co-Ed Gym At Last !

The Physical Education Department this year is the innovator of new unprecedented programs. This is the first time Co—Ed gym has been introduced to Weequahic and so far things are working out quite well. Mr. Klurman, head of the Phys Ed Dept., feels the new program is creating a welcome atmosphere in the gym classes at WHS. This change is considered by the department to be challenging to teacher performance and student participation.

The Physical Education Department is also offering courses which only exist at Weequahic: Movement Gym and Adaptive Gym. Mrs. White is the teacher of the movement class. Basically, the class covers a wide range of techniques which are instrumental in Modern Dance, gymnastics, African dance, etc. Mrs. King in Adaptive gym helps condition those students who are physically unable to compete with other students.

Swine Flu Poops Out

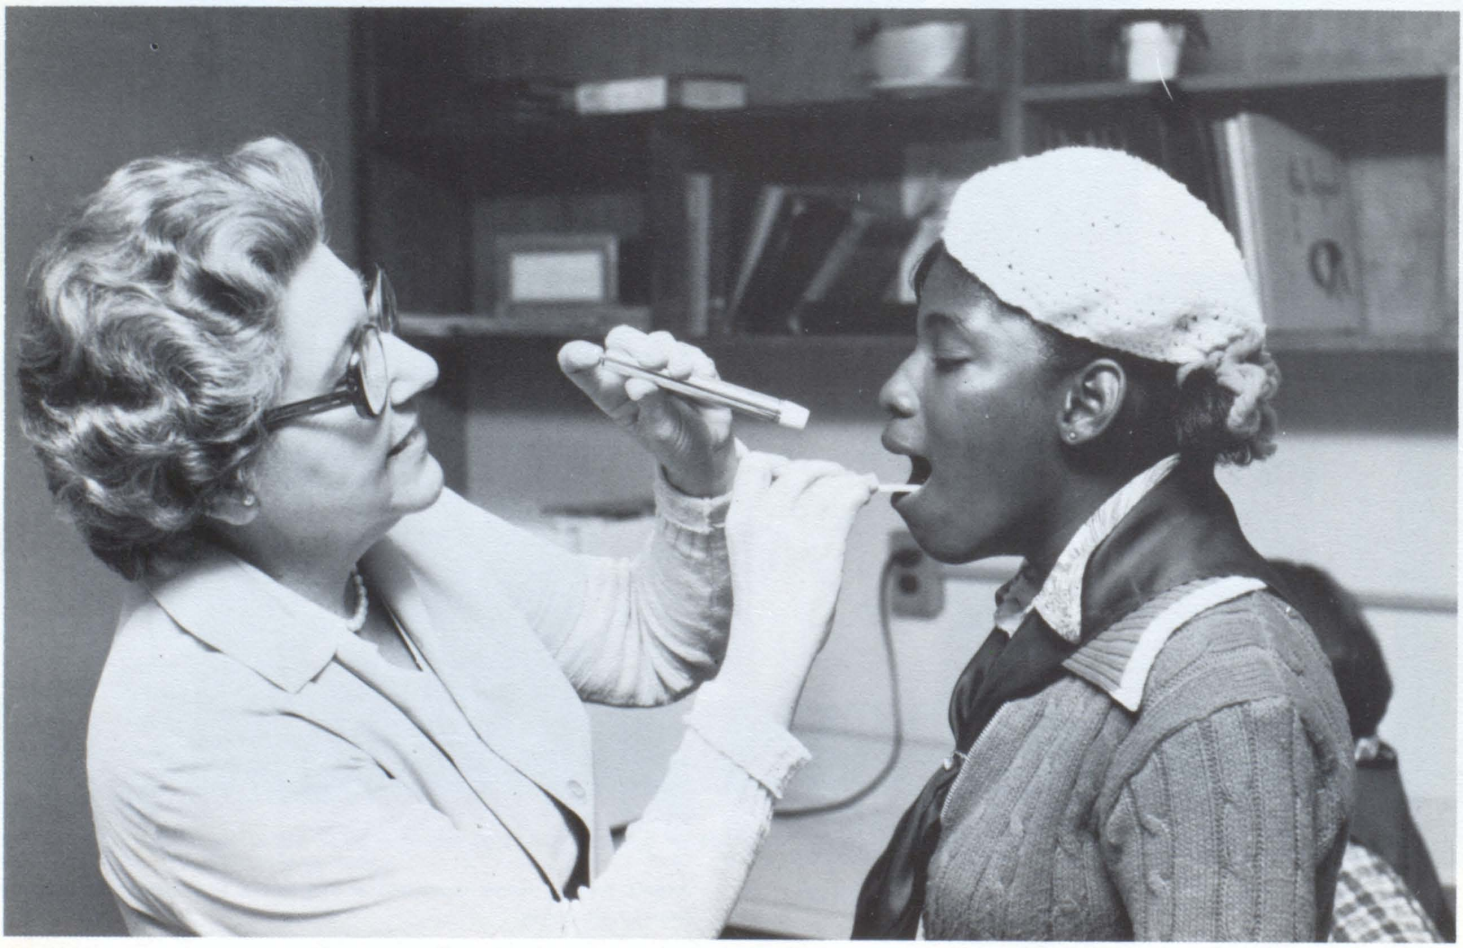

It seems that the health office at WHS sees more patients than the emergency room at Beth Israel. Mrs. White and Mrs. August—our two nurses—report that a mass immunization program for every single student was started this year by a state law decree. These shots protect against diptheria, polio, and tetanus. Rheumatic fever can now be detected right in the health office thanks to a new program involving throat cultures used to identify the strep virus responsible for this crippling disease. New, too, is the audiometer room for hearing examinations—one of the few in the state.

Teachers and students are still tested annually for TB, and routine physicals for students are still standard operating procedures.

The recent "lollipop rave" may be WHS's students' undoing. The suckers literally bathe the teeth in destructive sugars. The nurses express grave concern over the appalling amount of dental decay they see. On the lighter side — thirst must be a chronic "illness" at Weequahic — for over half of the students who visit the health office, the nurses revealed, come solely for water.

Vernon Webb tells Mrs. Dorothea August that he has swine flu. He also has a psychology test next period.

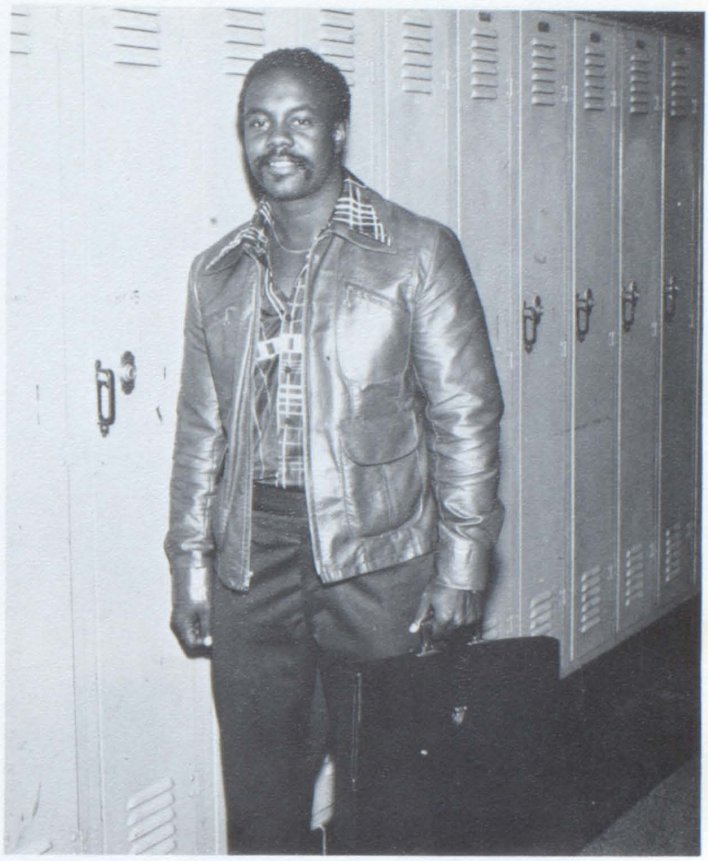

Mrs. Florence White finds the toothache as common as the cold at WHS.

Student Life

It is surprising to learn that each Weequahic student spends approximately 4,000 hours of his life in high school by the time he graduates. Thus, high school plays a very profound role in our lives: cultural and social as well as educational. The scenes appearing in this section are a reflection of student life at Weequahic.

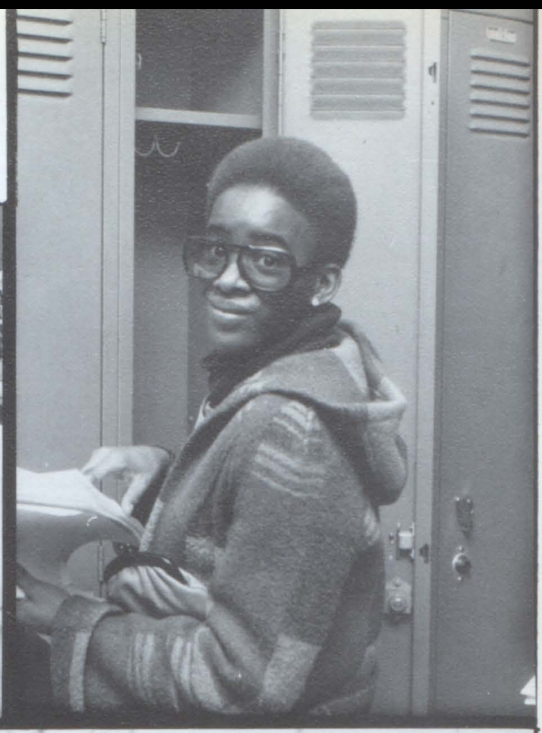

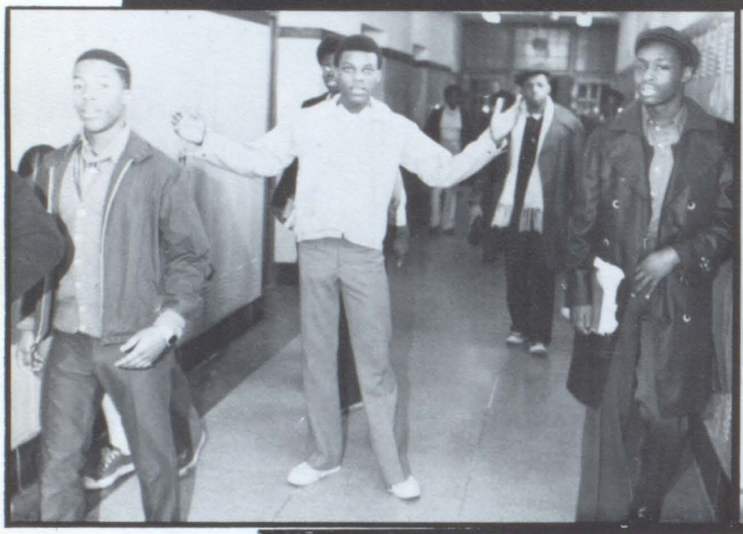

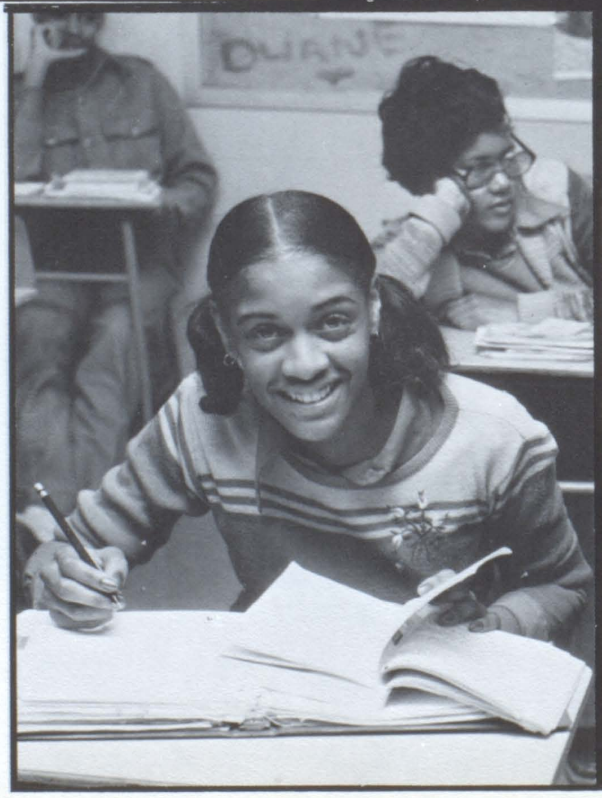

A place can always be found when students want to do - as slang would have it - "their thing". The locker is an excellent hiding place, if you're trying to avoid the CLEAN SWEEP. The cafeteria is a favorite meeting place of many friends. The weather gets warm - and it's good-bye cafey, hello out-of-doors. Don't leave out the classroom as a place to rendevous co-educationally — hey, and bring along your lollypop.

GREAT PERFORMANCES

Reaching For Goals

Former super-star Gary Cox and the previous season were high standards for the 1976 Cross Country team to live up to. But the team had a fair season and John Pennix, the only senior on the team, did his part all year. West Side managed to steal the title but the team looks forward to fighting it out next year. Victories over Vailsburg, East Side, Barringer, Central, and Shabazz gave them the dual meet record. With hard work and the proper spirit they will be back and looking forward to the 1977 season. Hopefuls are Angelo Clark, Charles Brown, Kerry Brown, Kevin Barnes, Leroy Kelly, John Boweles and a few promising freshmen. Gerald Polite and Jessie Henderson will round out the rest of the team.

Sock It To 'Em Soccer Team

This year was one of improvement for Weequahic's Soccer team. The veterans became more familiar with one another's style of play and a few rookies blended right in. The result? More team work and better plays then in the previous season. The offense was more potent because of the decisive action of Phillip Anderson, Barrington Smith, and Paul Smith, the high point men of the season.

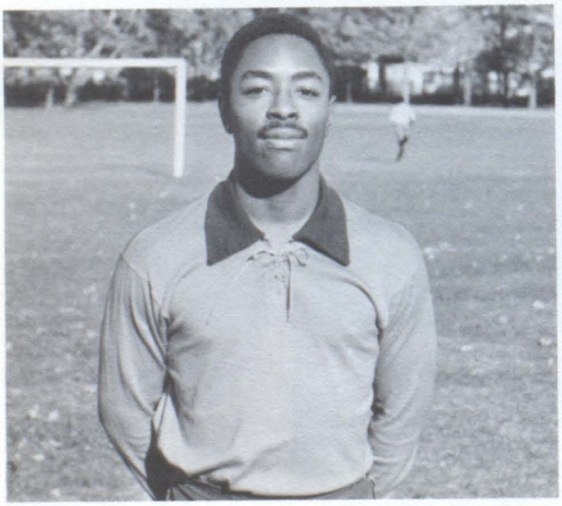

The team's morale was uplifted by two victories over Newark Tech (4—1) and Westside (3—2) whose teams had been heavily favored before those games. The West Side game was played in the cold and rain on a muddy field with a large murky puddle of water right in the center. Both teams constantly had to retrieve the ball from the puddle, having to play tough defense because of the weather. The team had to stop a last minute rally in which West Side scored two goals within three minutes. The last play of the game was a game-saving blocked goal attempt by center full back Davey Wilcox who had been protecting the goal when goalie Nelson De Soto had advanced out the goal in an attempt to thwart a scoring attempt by a West Side player.

A 12—0 blitz of the highly favored Newark City League, Section 2, Group 4 Champion Barringer opened the 1976 winning season, causing the defeated team to unpack their dreams of an unbeaten year. Linebacker Dave Hall led the Weequahic defenders with five unassisted tackles and eight assists. Darryl Black and Willie Warren were the power drivers that proved Barringer never posed a serious threat to the fighting Indians. What followed were whirlwind victories that capped the city championship. Led by one of the finest halfbacks in the city — Darryl Black — along with a strong defense and spectacular plays by Michael Lemon and Vernon Webb, the Indians rallied over Central 12—8 a week later. In the Vailsburg game, a swarming WHS defense held their opponents to five first downs and set up three scores with turnovers for the slaughter of the overwhelmed team at 33—8. Marauding like killer ants, WHS went on to knock East Side, Irvington, and Shabazz out of the box, the Shabazz game being the high point of the season.

It was a cold, Thanksgiving day. It was also the Newark City League Championship, and all 11,230 fans that attended the game sat or stood tense and excited as players Darryl Black and Mandy Carter controlled the game at a 20—0 win that captured the Indians the title, the first time since 1968.

HERBERT MARTIN and JAMES NORMAN

The Weequahic Marching Band directed by Mr. Richard Berggren ended their 1976 season as city champions. The marching Indians, though met with stiff competition, stepped strong and lively enabling them to retain their title for another season. The 90 members, twirlers, color guards, and rifle squad, led by Drum-Majors Jacquelyn Spencer and James Montague, wowed crowds at football games and pep rallies with dazzling routines to tunes such as a "A Fifth of Beethoven," "Let's Get It Together," and "You Should Be Dancin' ".

To perform their dynamic shows, they practiced long hours during and after school. The hard work paid off when the band was invited to represent Weequahic in National Band Day at the University of Maryland.

Each year the band performs two concerts, The Spring and the Winter concerts. In April, The Martin Luther King/Crispus Attucks Day Parade began the parade season. The band's participation in East Orange, Bloomfield, and New York parades allowed its talent to be recognized and enjoyed by the public. Pomp and Circumstance" at graduation is the band's honor in paying tribute to the graduation class. The season ends with the "Triumphant March."

Weequahic Girls Basketball team, although a bit unfortunate this season, held up to extremely tough opposition. Most of the team were first year players with only five of last year's members returning. It was a building year for the team. The team consisted of four seniors, two juniors, four sophomores, and seven freshmen. Outstanding players for the season were: senior Gerilyn Smith, a forward who scored 303 points in 15 games; and Annette Sampson, junior, a guard who was considered the most valuable player in assists and directing team play. Two of the most improved players were freshmen Cassandra Purdie, guard, and Patricia Sampson, forward. Other senior players were: Delia Walters, Diane Johnson, and Denise Haywood.

No. 1 In the City

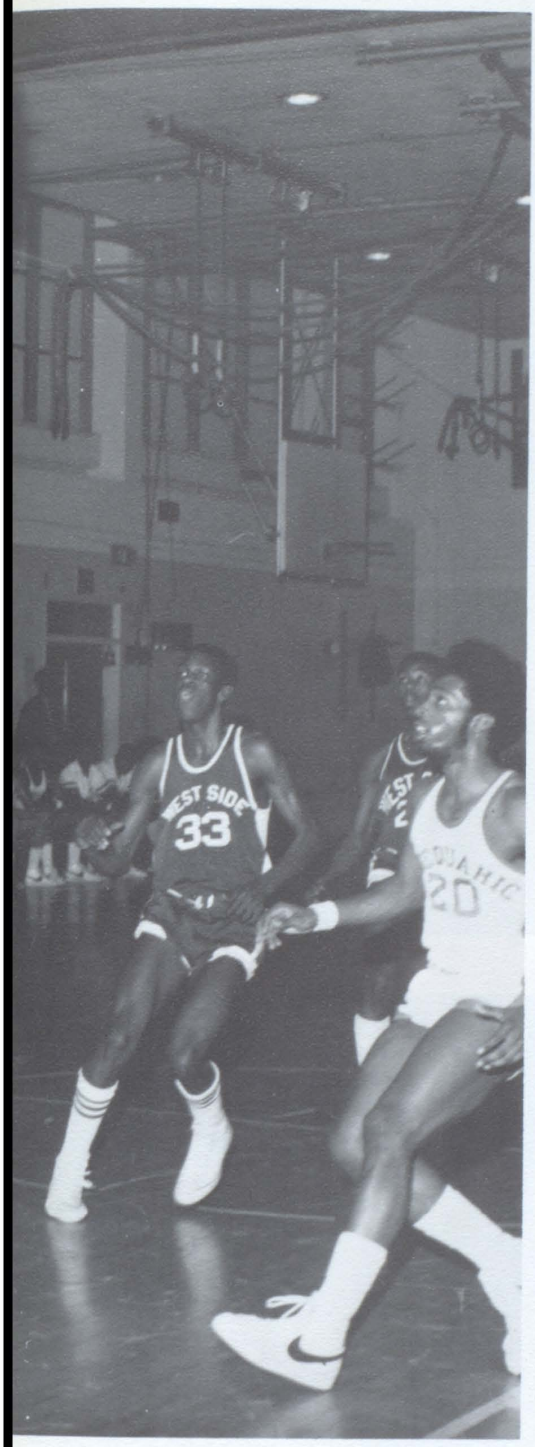

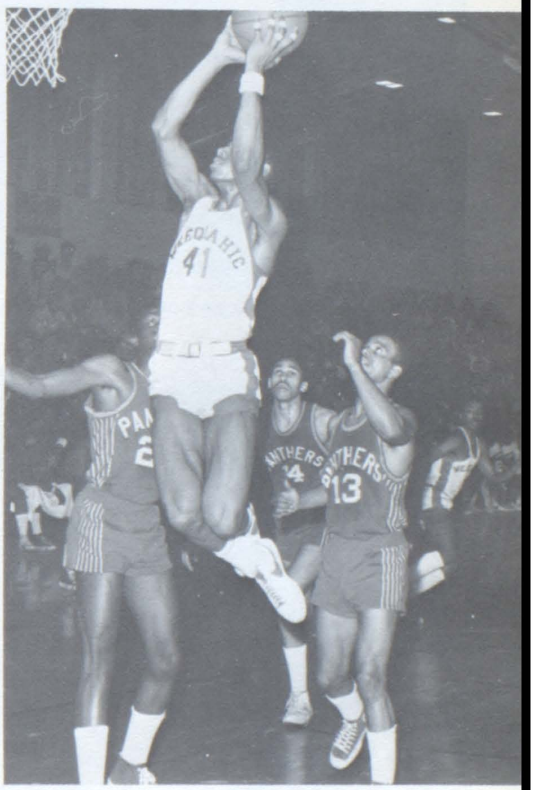

Basketball Or Is It Ball-et?

Weequahic's varsity captured the city championship with an 89-64 victory over Vailsburg. The 10-2 record was the best in the city league, rivaling Shabazz, Barringer, and Central - the most notables. Weequahic's record in games outside league play was 5-5. Non-league challengers included East Orange,

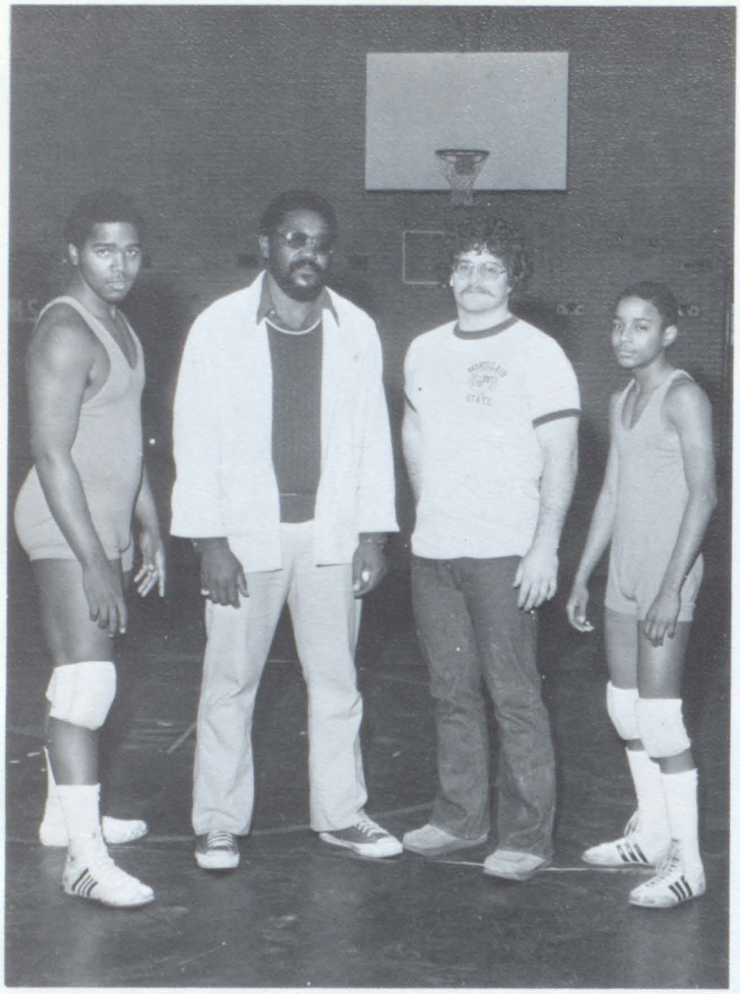

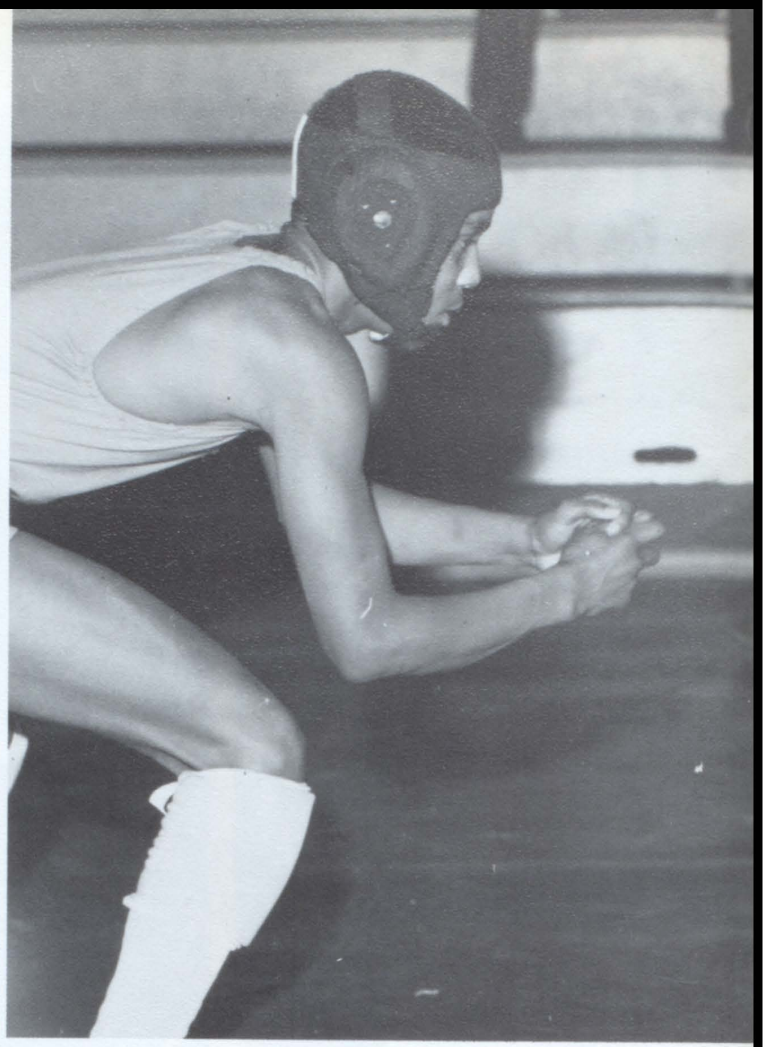

Orange, and Paterson Eastside. The Indians final loss came in a 4-point loss to E.O. (76-72) in the group 3, Section 2 finals of the State Tournament. Principle senior players were Deverett Ross and Ben Cooper. Senior Frezel Green played a fairly consistent game for a first year man. Outstanding juniors are: Archie Tyson and Brinton Huggins. Coach Slappy predicts that Ted McRae and Brett Ryans will share stardom next year. Considering the team's 15-7 record was accomplished by a relatively young club, next year's potential seems great. Superlatives: Most consistent-B. Huggins; Most Heroic-D. Ross; and Best Defender-D. Harvey.

Basketball action in clockwise rotation: Ben Cooper (Center) lays up with a finger roll shot. Deverett Ross and Brinton Huggins demonstrate how to box out the opponent. Archie Tyson fakes Panther Marshall to the floor. Ross makes his score in a lay-up shot. Kendall Gardner (opposite page, bottom left) styles for a reverse lay-up. Note the leg positions of these stars. Is it basketball or basketball-et?

Let's Wrestle

"Oh, my, yes. You lead—I'll follow."

Senior Willie Kennon applies a half-nelson.

Though the assignment of Assistant Coach Farrah brought greater wrestling knowledge and skill to the team, this season was not as successful for the wrestling Indians. Losing to Central, Vailsburg, Barringer, and East Side, we did manage to place in the District Tournament. James Griffith, a sophomore—and first year wrestler, won the first place championship. A third place finish was taken by senior Kenneth Holloman at 170 lbs. There was also a third place trophy gracing the shelf of junior Eugene Dogans. It was unfortunate that we were disqualified in the Regionals. (Though sophomore James Griffith was invited and placed third.) Basically, the team was inexperienced this season, though working hard for next season's meets. They definitely should be watched with an up and coming sophomore like James Griffith!

The OBA's major goal this year has been one of student productivity, a united effort of students working together, producing together. Restoration of student pride has been another of the principle objectives of the student government. The central network of social activities at Weequahic has been sponsored by the OBA: the successful ski trip, the homecoming festivities, the "oldie but goodie" contest.

Realizing the necessity of shared educational experiences with other schools, the OBA has been involved with student government exchange program, where students visit other schools and share ideas in government.

A "pick-up" campaign was initiated to instill in Weequahic students pride in their school and in themselves. The theme was: pick up your grades, pick up your pride, pick up paper from the halls, keep your school clean.

Growing Together

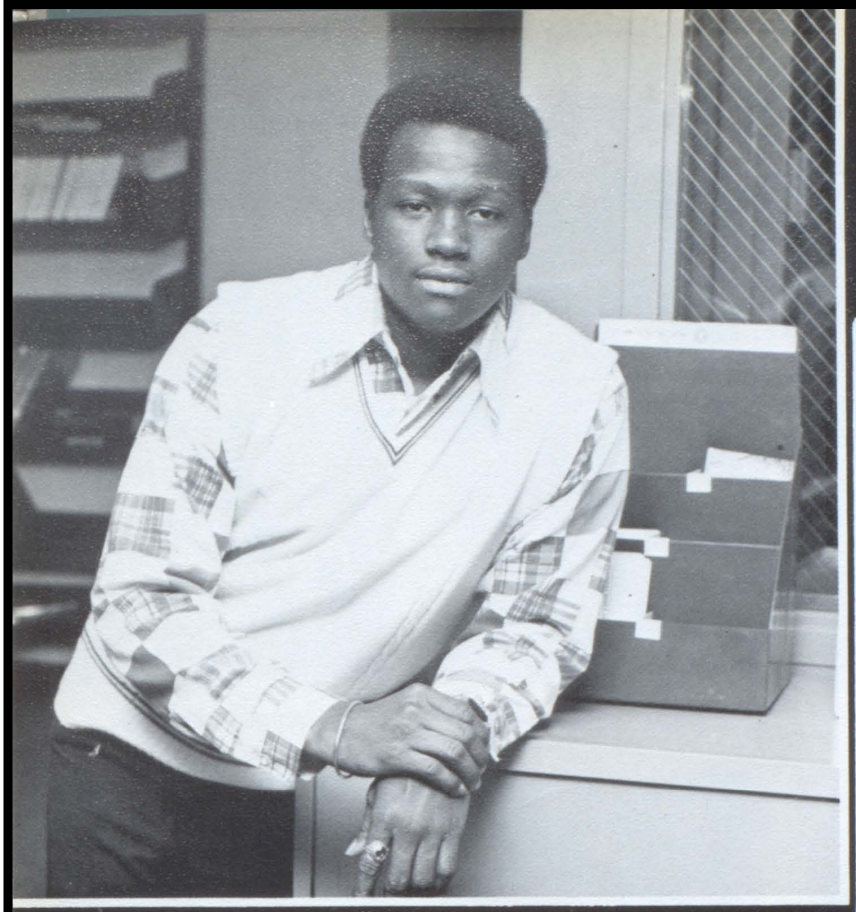

It is important to know that we have come to only one of the peaks of knowledge and only the beginning of our successes. Our learning experiences thus far have challenged each of us, preparing us for the contributions we will ultimately make to our society. Though our endurance of the pressures of high school have been successful, greater pressures await us in our continuing efforts. It is how we react and adjust to these pressures that is the ultimate important factor. We have worked together and grown together. During this good year, the senior class has sponsored many activities that realised us monies and good times. Most memorable are the Senior Spook and the Gong Show. I know that each of us has sat down and thought about what we are going to do with our future. Some of us are frightened by it. Some of us feel we are just not ready. Some of us have selected our course and have already made preparations for that. Along the way, many of us will change our minds; and regrettably a few of us will never know what it was we should have done. Whatever, graduation is that first step and we must build upon it. Let the memories of your high school days be fond ones; look upon those years as training ones. The future is ours, and isn't it great that we have a choice! Have a good life! It's been great serving you.

We find our TOP 20 attending colleges as far away as North Carolina and as close as Kean; and with as common a major as teaching and as diverse as anesthesiologist. Engineering seems to be the number one field pursued. Number one in the class, Anthony Wynn, will take his engineering degree at Brown University in Rhode Island with Benjamin Perry, whose area will be electrical engineering, also. Wilford Young will study engineering at Livingston College, while Kenneth Holloman will pursue his degree in civil engineering at Princeton U. Clifton Simmons is traveling all the way to Georgia State for his training in engineering, and Daniel Holmes, number 18 in the class, will attend Wentworth Institute at Boston for his major in Engineering Technology.

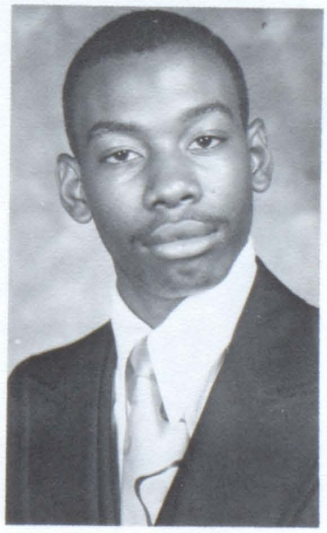

Add to the medical ranks Felix Williams, Keith Holloman, Sharon Royster, Rosalyn Hopkins, Michelle Green, and Sharon Henry. Sharon Royster and Michelle are both planning to attend Duke University in NC with ultimate careers in nursing, Michelle specializing in pediatrics. Sharon Henry will get her RN cap from Seton Hall. Felix is going to Drew Univ. for his pre-med training and Keith will be joining his brother, Kenneth, at Princeton for his M.D. When asked where she plans to receive her medical papers from, Rosalyn Hopkins replied, "John Hopkins Univ. Where else?"

Joyce Bronner and Lydia Brown are entering the business world via Johnson and Wales College (Rhode Island) and Northeastern U at Boston, respectively. Both are going into accounting.

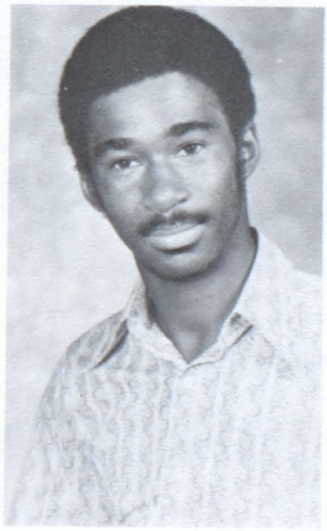

Entering the education field are Belinda Flanigan, who wishes to return to her grammar school to teach on the elementary level; and Rosalind Nixon, who plans to become a professor of English, instructing on the university level. Belinda's attending Kean and Rosalind is off to Drew. Dean Martin's major will be chemistry at Rutgers, New Brunswick, aspiring to become a bio-chemist. Sharon Jordan will take her journalism major at Northeastern U - TV news writing is her goal. Sheila Witherspoon is interested in computer science at Susquehana U in PA. And Yvette King has chosen Dental Hygiene as her career. She'll be at Union Co. Institute of Technology.

THE LEGEND STAFF

Wishes You

Peace, Prosperity, And Joy To Come

Let the Army help you with college.

Last year, 90,000 young people like yourself earned college credits in the Army.

They attended classes on post. They studied at nearby colleges and universities. And they took courses through various correspondence programs. And the Army paid for up to 75% of their tuition costs.

Our educational benefits are in addition to the job training you'll receive, the salary you'll make, and the travel opportunities you'll have.

If you'd like to find out more about all the educational benefits the Army has to offer, see or call your local Army Representative.

Call Army Sgt. JIM SMITH
372-0232

Join the people who've joined the Army.

Congratulations To The Class Of 1977

Big Daddy's Final Announcements

Big Daddy makes this announcement in remembrance of the way it was. He wants you to know that the halls of Weequahic won't stand as tall without the "Jammin Seniors of '77."

"Attention! Attention! Operation Clean Sweep will no longer be in effect . . . William Richardson, may success follow you out of the OBA office . . . Whatever happened to the cuties on the twirling squad? Willie W., can you guess what team stuffed the ballot box? . . . Anthony Wynn, always do the best you can and you'll always be #1 . . . Dating Service anyone? . . . Michael Allen, Miss Right will come along and blow your mind . . . Craig M., we'll miss your clowning . . . Tia G., Whatever happened to Deverett R.? . . . Attention! For sale! This year's term papers for next year's seniors . . . Attention! A new course in abnormal psychology is being offered. Prerequisite . . . you must be abnormal. Attention! Homeroom period will be extended. 3rd period will be omitted. 4th period will begin at 10:25. 5th period will be extended for an assembly . . . or was that 6th period . . . 7th period will . . . Never mind . . . Today has been cancelled. I repeat . . . I repeat . . . I repeat . . . Attention! Attend the reunion in 1987 and wear your blue and white . . . We have passed through the doors of Weequahic, but remember . . . The Legend continues.
